Announcing: Inman Construction to be acquired by EMJ Corporation

Chattanooga, TN January 28, 2010 -- EMJ Corporation headquartered in Chattanooga has agreed to purchase assets of Inman Construction based in Memphis. Inman will become part of EMJ effective March 1st. Inman will remain in Memphis operating as Inman/EMJ and become a viable contributor to EMJ's national business growth. ""After a very strong 2009, this is the perfect time for Inman to expand into new markets", said Page Inman, President. "By becoming a part of the EMJ team, we will be able to reach new clients and building types which will successfully add to our long history of healthcare and institutional experience. We are looking forward to joining EMJ."

EMJ has offices in Chattanooga, Dallas, Sacramento, Boston, and Tulsa. EMJ owns a number of operating divisions, including Signal Energy, a renewable energy company and Core Safety, among others. "Inman is an ideal fit for EMJ", said EMJ CEO, Jim Sattler. "We share the same values and have a very similar approach to doing business. We intend to build upon the unique strengths and market position of Inman and of EMJ to make for a stronger combined company for our customers."

EMJ Corporation

EMJ is the general contractor on all types of projects including retail, office, distribution centers, warehouses, lifestyle centers, hotels, multi-family, churches, schools, entertainment, medical, parking structures and wind/solar energy projects. With offices strategically located across the United States, EMJ has become an industry leader building over 500 million square feet of construction projects in 48 states. EMJ was founded in 1968 in Chattanooga, TN, where it continues to headquarter.

Inman Construction

Started in 1970, Inman has grown into one of the largest, most respected construction firms in the Mid-South. The company has extensive experience building virtually all forms of commercial, healthcare, institutional and industrial projects. Inman offers a complete range of pre-construction and construction services. Dedicated to quality construction, Inman's attention to detail begins with project inception through owner occupancy.
